Exit Scripts

If You are not using an exit script on your sales pages and optin pages then you are missing out BIG time.

An exit script is something which activates something else when you leave the page, such as:

- Another web page with a special offer.
- An 'Agent' which will chat with you and give you a special offer.
- An optin from your sales page.
- An additional 'incentive' on an optin page.

As with most things it is better to use a good quality exit scripts such as: Virtual Smart Agent and Exit Splash.

Affiliate Scripts

ClickBank Affiliate Master is a script that myself and John created to allow product owners to affiliate link to a special page.

You can find out more details here.

We are going to give this to you for FREE (see members area).

This is a $97 product that sells very well.

Affiliate Page Pro allows you to create an effective affiliates page and also build an affiliate mailing list automatically.

Peel-Away Ads

Peel-Away Ads are basically small animated Flash ads that appear in the corners of your site.

The idea is that you see the corner of the web page flickering, so when you investigate, you will hover over the ad and it will open up with the full ad, when you click it then links to the advert.

The Ad can display anything, for example, a special offer which you control.
